

Please deny the petition that BellSouth has filed. Halting the regulatory review of broadband pricing is very bad for consumers. This will eventually result in the chilling effect of locking out independent ISPs from the network. As a consumer, I find far more value and customer satisfaction from small independent ISPs, than from the faceless giants of the network. Please stop a wired data monopoly before it starts. Protect reasonable broadband pricing by denying BellSouth's petition.